The Poetics of The Real And Imagined - an exhibition hosted by the British Council in the capital

The Poetics Of The Real And Imagined - an exhibition of visual arts - hosted by the British Council presents an intergenerational perspective featuring exhibits for the ongoing India/UK Together, Season of Culture, British Council's landmark programme to mark 75 years of India's independence.

The exhibition showcases works by Indian artists enabled by Charles Wallace India Trust (CWIT) and British Council to collaborate with a variety of institutions in practice and research-based programmes in the UK.

The initiative aims to explore the work of CWIT alumni that underlines and communicates the relationships of human subjects, to each other and to history.

The show features grantees from CWIT across four decades, Anupam Roy, Pallavi Paul, Ranbir Kaleka, Ranjit Kandalgaonkar and Varunika Saraf. The exhibition will run till March 2, 2023, at the British Council, New Delhi.

The exhibit is a part of the programme of Arts, English and Education, which aims to build on the British Council's commitment for creating opportunities between India and UK. Jonathan Kennedy, Director Arts, British Council India, says, "The fabulously dramatic exhibition is the culmination of an enduring partnership with the CWIT and a great indication of a way ahead for India and UK innovation in artistic collaboration and connections through culture. This stunning exhibition at the British Council in New Delhi curated by leading CWIT alumnus Latika Gupta brings together some remarkable pieces of contemporary visual arts in different media, highlighting the astonishing skills of Indian artists who have done their research in the UK with CWIT support. The exhibition eloquently explores global challenges of climate change and equality of opportunity."
